Stillwater, O. T., Nov. 20.-The Oklaoma experiment station has issued another bulletin, which reads as follows: The feeder is frequently in doubt as to which is the cheapest, wheat meal, bran, or shorts, when purchasing feed for cattle and hogs. If wheat meal costs $39 per ton, is it cheaper than bran at $15 or shorts at $16 per ton? Other considerations aside from arithmetic enter into the answer to this sort of question. In the first place, the material sold at bran varies from the hulls of wheat to a mixure of the entire refuse from four manufacturer known as "millrun." And ma Lawton, O.
